Make it Handsworth

Thursday 24th March, 12-5pm

- Watch films on the amazing Vintage Movie Bus
 - Join in the craft workshops with textile artist, Julia O'Connell

Make It Handsworth - a day of watching and making presented by Flatpack Festival and Craftspace. Various crafty activities will be on offer, including textile workshops - bring along something made by hand, or a special object and Julia O'Connell will show you how to transform it into printed fabric and then add it to the patchwork of Handsworth stories.

The incredible Vintage Movie Bus will be located at Handsworth Library for one day only with a film programme ranging from children's shorts and knitted animations to archival public information films and Handsworth home-movies. Breathing Space, a 60s film about the redevelopment of Birmingham's parks will be introduced by writer Catherine O'Flynn (What Was Lost) at 2pm.
